RESIGNATION OF PREMIER GEORGE TENDERED TO KING

After Seven of Most Critical Years in History Quits Job

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, Oct. 19—After holding the office of prime minister thru seven of the most critical years of British history—three years of war and four years of reconstruction—David Lloyd George went into the wilderness today.

This was the description in his Manchester speech of his position if the Unionist wing of his followers should desert him. Unionist withdrawal from the coalition was decided upon today by the meeting which Austen Chamberlain had called at the Carlton Club and which was attended by the coalition members of the house of commons and a handful of lords who were enrolled in the cabinet.

The vote was 186 to 87 against the Chamberlain policy of pledging the party to sustain the coalition and in favor of a general election to confirm its course. The meeting was followed by a succession of swift events which carried the coalition government into darkness.

Andrew Bonar Law will put on the prime minister's mantle for a short term of office. The king summoned him to Buckingham Palace late this evening and invited him to form a new government which Mr. Bonar Law will undertake, altho the state of his health, which compelled him to withdraw from public life a few months ago, makes it a risky venture.

Before Mr. Bonar Law can formally accept the premiership, however, a meeting of the Unionist party must be held to elect a new leader to carry out the policy to be decided by caucus. This meeting will be held within a few days, when Mr. Bonar Law will be chosen.

Between the Carlton Club meeting and Bonar Law's visit to the king it was a seething afternoon of rumors and of group gatherings among the political factions. Austen Chamberlain, first visited the prime minister's official residence in Downing Street, as had been expected to offer his resignation; several under secretaries and the chief coalition-unionist whip, lieutenant Colonel Leslie Wilson had already informed the newspapers that they had resigned, and within two hours Mr. Lloyd George was in possession of the resignations of practically all the members of the cabinet. He then drove to the palace to tender them to the king.

COMPROMISE MADE IN CLOSED SHOP DISPUTE

(By The Associated Press)

CLEVELAND, O., Oct. 19—The open and closed shop dispute in the United Typothetae of America was compromised at the closing session of its annual convention here today by providing for the reorganiaztion of the labor divisions of the association separate from the parent organization.

By an amendment to the constitution the open and closed shop groups are permitted to form separate organizations outside of the typothetae but must remain affiliated with it and to adopt any name they choose, so long as the name of the National organization is not a part of it. Members said it was considered possible that the open shop division will merge with the Employing Printers'. of America. Membership in the typothetae will still be required of those belonging to either of the new labor associations it was said.

The convention adopted an amendment which declared that the association "believes in and endorses the open shop or American plan of employment in the plants of its members but recognizes the rights of its members to conduct union or non-union offices if they so desire."

The association voted down an amendment which would require members to adopt the open shop plan.

All the present officers were re-elected.

BRITISH PROTEST IS WIDER IN SCOPE OFFICIALS LEARN

Applies to All Previous Seizures Made by This Government

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—Representations of the British government to the state department protesting the seizure beyond the three mile limit of the Canadian schooner Emerald held as a liquor smuggling suspect, were of wider scope it was learned today than at first known.

In addition to dealing with the specific case of the Emerald the British communication presented the view that the recent American executive order limiting prohibition enforcement operations to territorial waters should apply to all previous seizures of British craft where it had not been established as a matter of fact that the vessel was sending contrabrand ashore in her own boats.

The American answer will be defererd until official data as to the Emerald case is at hand. The state department transmitted the British communication to the treasury department today with a request for a statement of the facts of the Emerald seizures.

It is understood here that a number of the seizures made prior to President Harding's order restricting activities to the three mile limit of territorial waters do not set up the claim that the ship was in touch with shore by means of her own boats. The British memorandum contends that such vessels automatically should be released and any property taken aboard them and also held should be returned. What legal grounds such action might establish for subsequent damage claims against the American government by owners of craft which had been seized and released no officials here cared to discuss.

In any event the legality under American law and American interpretation of international law is process of court determination and a controlling decision may be handed down before the questions raised by the British protest in the Emerald case have been threshed out in a diplomatic way.

Informal Conference Held in New York City Thursday

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—Representatives of banks identified with railroad interests were present at an informal conference here today of leaders in the movement to merge the Great Northern, Northern Pacific and Burlington railroads in one big system. Altho no details of the meeting were given out it was learned that only the operating details of the proposed merger were under discussion. A member of a prominent banking firm denied that any discussion had taken place so far on the financial problems involved in combining the three big railroads.

"The merger has been under discussion for many months," he said, "but any assertion that the merger plans have been complete is without foundation. It is not so close at hand as some people think."

Plans for the merger when completed will be presented to the interstate commerce commission at Washington Nov. 17. The commission has already announced tentative consolidation plans for the railroads involved but which do not meet with their approval. Under those plans the Great Northern would be joined with the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad and the Northern Pacific coupled with the Burlington. The promoters of the proposed three cornered merger deny that the St. Paul system is included in their considerations.

"PSYCHIC GLANDS" THEORY EXPLAINED

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Oct. 19—The theor of "psychic glands" was explained today by Mrs. Mary T. Longley, of Washington, D. C., a speaker today at the National Spiritualist convention. Psychic glands she said probably should be classified as belonging to the esthetic rather than the physical body, so intangible are they.

The location of the glands cannot be determined but in most cases they probably are not developed or perhaps due to some shock or other cause have deteriorated. They are, she said, an essential part of the chemistry of the soul, as real as the magnetic line, which can be seen like a beam of light connecting the eteric with the physical bodies at times when the spirit is wandering in unknown places.

FRANCE DOES NOT REJOICE OVER THE PASSING OF GEORGE

Fear Bonar Law's Cabinet May be Even More Unfriendly

(By The Associated Press)

PARIS, Oct. 19.—There is no tendency on the part of the French government to rejoice over the passing of Lloyd George and his cabinet. This was given definite assertion in official quarters.

In general the feeling seems to be that while Lloyd George was sometimes bad dough in his attitude toward the French population Andrew Bonar Law might be worse. The foreign office declined to make any statement on the downfall of the Lloyd George government.

Officials who frankly resented the attitude of Lloyd George on many occasions pointed out tonight that France might find herself faced with a new British cabinet much more severe toward the French population than Lloyd George had ever been. Those in official quarters reveal considerable anxiety over tonight's dispatches, saying that Mr. Bonar Law would form a new cabinet.

This anxiety is due to a recent letter which Mr. Bonar Law wrote to the London Times in which he advocated putting an end to the entente unless France changed her position. Surely the government will watch with a certain amount of uneasiness the development of the Bonar Law cabinet in its relations with France.

The change in the British government probably will not delay the Near East peace negotiations it was said here. In fact it might easily have the effect of hastening both peace and settling Near East condition.

(By The Associated Press)

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Oct. 19—Joseph Weisman, a Springfield tailor told the police today he had been swindled out of $1,057 by two men whom he charged exchanged pieces of glass for valuable diamonds he had occepted as security for the money.

A man who gave the name "Kline" called at his place inquiring about a store location. While Weisman and the stranger were talking a second man came in offering to sell three diamonds. Weisman examined them with an eye glass and pronounced them three karats each, according to his story.

"Kline" offered the man $1,000 for the stones, declaring he didn't have the money but if Weisman would lend it to him he would wire St. Louis for it and would pay $400 interest on the loan, giving the diamonds as security.

The three went to a bank where Weisman wrote out a check for $1,000 he said, while the stranger with the diamonds waited outside. The man turned over the diamonds in a small cloth bag Weisman was so pleased with the deal he also gave him $57 he had in his pocket.

DIRECTOR FORBES DID NOT DELIVER ADDRESS TO LEGION

Head of Bureau Declines to Comment On Incident

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19—Incidents at New Orleans which resulted in the departure from that city yesterday of Director Forbes of the Veteran Bureau who did not deliver the address he had planned to make before the American Legion convention apparently are regarded as closed by Mr. Forbes, who returned today to his desk at the bureau.

The director had no comment to make in explanation of his failure to address the legion. It was learned, however, that he left with the local representatives of the bureau in New Orleans a copy of his prepared speech in which he had planned to discuss the government's policy in matters relating to veterans of the war.

In this connection it became known that Mr. Forbes discussed his plans for the New Orleans visit with friends in administration circles here and they thoroly approved of it at the time he left Washington.

They explained today that Col. Forbes was prompted to make the trip only by the most sincere intention to bring about by personal contact a closer relations and spirit of cooperation between the bureau and the veterans assembled at the convention which would work to the mutual advantage of the government and the world war men in solving questions between them.

It also was explained that Col. Forbes had been invited by Hanford McNider, national commander of the legion, and other officials of the veterans organization to attend and address the convention. At the time the invitation was accepted Director Forbes, himself a member of the legion and said to be intensely interested in its welfare discussed his plans with the legion officials and it was said they heartily approved of his plans.

Brigadier General Sawyer in charge of the government's soldier hospital program, likewise declined tonight to comment on the developments at New Orleans. He received news of the resolution asking for his removal without indicating that he intended to make any public reply.

CERTAIN INTERESTS TRYING TO BLOCK THE NEW CONSTITUTION

Head of Chicago Trust Company Makes Plea for its Adoption

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Oct. 19—Opposition to the new Illinois state constitution, Harrison B. Riley, president of the Chicago Title & Trust company told members of the Industrial Club here today is based largely on the decision of certain interests "to deadlock all passing until the majority comes to terms" and grants them certain sought for immunities.

Reviewing the objections raised to the new basic law, Mr. Riley said none of these proposals stand a fair chance of adoption if put to vote standing alone and all of them put together on one ticket would probably fare better.

"This doubt is shared by some and possibly by all the objecting blocs," he said. Their chance is so to block the wheels of progress that in desperation the majority will yield."

Touching upon what he termed the opposition of organized labor Mr. Riley said:

"The complaint is made that nothing is done for labor in the proposed constitution; that it is left exactly where it stands under the constitution of 1870. All of which is true, but it is also true that no class advantage has been given to capital, business management, the vets or drys, or any other class or race."

A constitution which recognizes class consciences as classes exist at the moment would not endure, he said, and asserted that the shifting problems of classes should be left to the legislature.

Mr. Riley closed with an appeal for the ratification by the voters of the new constitution.

LEGION DEMANDS THE REMOVAL OF BRIGADIER SAWYER

Pass Resolutions Severely Criticising His Official Acts

(By The Associated Press)

NEW ORLEANS, La., Oct. 19.—The American Legion after a long business session in which a resolution was adopted criticising severely Brigadier General Sawyer, in spite of the protest of the legion's hospitalization commissioner, A. A. Sprague, of Chicago, tonight entertained General John J. Pershing, and made late minute preparations for the contest tomorrow for the selection of its national officers. Out of numerous candidates for the national commandership, William F. Degen of New York, and Alvin M. Owsley of Denton, Texas, stood forth most prominently.

Mr. Owsley in his report as head of the legion's Americanization commission had laid stress upon what he terms the necessity for "100 per cent Americanism" total exclusion of immigrants definite period and correction deficiencies in text books dealing with the war.

Degen has chosen as his principal policy continuation of the bonus right.

Both endorse the policy and the record of Hanford MacNider, the present commander.

It was hinted tonight that a resolution calling for definite action in behalf of universal peace might be introduced tomorrow by legionnaires who are also members of the interallied veterans federation.

Altho the interallied veterans formally concluded their convention Monday, an executive committee of the organization empowered by the convention to take what action it deemed expedient toward forwarding world peace, has been in session here all day today, and is expected to make a statement shortly covering its position.

Adopt Sawyer Resolution.

A resolution attacking and demanding the removal of Brigadier General Sawyer, President Harding's personal physician from the post of chief co-ordinator of the federal hospitalization board was adopted by convention by a vote of 601 to 315.

Major A. A. Sprague of Chicago mentioned as a candidate for the position of national commander vainly tried to stem the tide again Dr. Sawyer. Sprague precipitated the issue several weeks ago by a bitter attack on Sawyer but pleaded today with the convention to give Dr. Sawyer "a chance" on the latter's recent promise of cooperation with the legion's rehabilitation committee.

The suggestion by Delegate Bettman, of Ohio, that a repudiation of Dr. Sawyer would hurt the cause of the disabled veterans and make President Harding "sore" was greeted with hoots and jeers, mingled with applause.

A THOUGHT

For who among men knoweth the things of a man, save the spirit of the man, which is in him? Even so the things of God none knoweth save the spirit of God.—1 Corinthians 2:11.

* * *

TO be a strong hand in the dark to another in the time of need, to be a cup of strength to a human soul in a crisis of weakness, is to know the glory of life.—Hugh Black.

Times have certainly changed. A well known Illinois newspaper recently referred to John D. Rockefeller as the greatest public benefactor of his day. A few years ago it was the popular thing for muck-raking writers to discourse about the rapacity of Mr. Rockefeller and his associates in the Standard Oil Co.

The attendance at the first ward branch school is so large this year that an additional teacher is required. While this fact means additional expense for the board of education, the condition is one to be desired. There cannot be too many children in the schools of Jacksonville.

Judging by past performance, the management of the Chicago & Alton will either continue to route the Hummer from Chicago thru this city or will present valid reasons why the service must be discontinued. The C. & A. has always manifested a desire to do the best possible for Jacksonville.

If there is any office in Morgan county where character and stability are essential for the full performance of duty, the office is that of sheriff. By virtue of the office, the sheriff of this county is required to preserve order. He becomes the collector o taxes and in the course of four years millions of the people's money passes thru his hands.

Charles S. Black's entire life has been spent in this county and the record is an open book. He has always stood for the best things and is a man to whom the word "dependable" applies in its very best sense. He should be the next sheriff of Morgan county.

This wonderful fall weather is certainly the very best that could have been provided for helping along the Jacksonville improvement program. If the weather clerk will provide just a few more weeks, all the street paving jobs will be completed and in use. East State street will be open to traffic today.

This is the season of the year when warnings are given about burning leaves the resulting fire danger and the smoke annoyance. There are people who follow the good plan of burying leaves instead of burning them. These frugal persons are thus provided with a fertilizer supply for their vegetable and flower gardens. Burning leaves is really a waste of materials.

BERTON BRALEY'S DAILY POEM

Defiance

By Berton Braley

FATE shall not break me though her heavy hand
Crushes each edifice that I have planned.
Amid the ruins I shall start again
(With no bewailing all that might have been)
Mixing new mortar, bringing in new sand;
I shall rebuild the arches that once spanned
The doorways of my home in fairyland,
Thus shall I prove to all the world of men
Fate shall not breaw me.

THE wreck of all my visions have I scanned,
My bright hopes blasted and my great dreams banned,
But I shall keep on building dreams, and when
They fall in wreck, though it were ten times ten,
I shall rebuild till firm and strong they stand!
Fate shall not break me.

(Copyright, 1922, NEA Service)

We cannot agree with those dry advocates who are urging people not to vote on the wine and beer proposal which will be presented at the coming election. Since the legal authority of the state has declared that it is proper for the question to be submitted the average person feels that voters should express their views on this question. The drys are in strong majority in this state, so why not roll up a heavy vote against the proposal.

THE GAME OF BRIDGE

Norman Hapgood in Hearst's International thus discourses on Bridge:

The most famous of experts at auction whist was a gambler on a large scale, and he also combined his card-playing with vices other than gambling. Such is often the case. Those for whom bridge becomes the center of life are likely to acquire the gambler mind, the gambler heart and soul. But that is not the entire story. Bridge requires thought. It puts the brain to an exercise similar to those given by algebra and logic. It trains the memory and requires concentration. Thousands of men and women, especially in the smaller cities, are thus obtaining an activity of mind they would never otherwise know.

Good does not cease to be good because exaggeration can turn it into evil. There is scarcely a virtue that cannot by excess become a vice.

TRAFFIC BOTHERS DECATUR TOO

Talking about traffic conditions the Decatur Review says:

The matter has been discussed by the city council, the police department, and now by the Association of Commerce. None of these bodies has proved wizard enough to make headway. When our cities were laid out the fathers were unable to forsee the coming of the automobile in thousands. Had they seen this, likely they would have provided 160 acres for parking. But the provision wasn't made, and now we must try to do something else.

WANTED: SALESMEN (NEA)

A shortage of sales managers is reported by a "white collar" employment bureau in New York City, which supplies business executives, efficiency experts and college professors just as similar organizations supply teamsters, cooks and day laborers.

"There is a constant and increasing demand for sales managers," says the report. "Recently we have been supplying men for these positions at salaries averaging $231 a week. And we have trouble finding enough men to meet the demand."

Young men, "undecided what to do," give a thought to salesmanship as a career.

And, by the way, the young bookkeeper who is struggling along and sees no future in his line should be heartened by the news that plenty of jobs paying $15,000 to $50,000 a year await the superbookkeepers known as auditors.

The business of our country went through an era in which the big fortunes went to men who were geniuses at production. The corporations known as trusts were built up as producing organizations.

High efficiency in production, however, means nothing if there is no market for what is produced. This is where the salesman steps in.

The sales engineer now ranks in importance with the production engineer.

Salesmanship is the coming field. For competition is bound to be sharp and keen in the post-war years that lie ahead. And it is salesmanship that "cops the business' in high competition.

Traveling on trains you meet many crackerjack salesmen, veterans, grown old and white-haired in the service.

But salesmanship is primarily a young man's game. The vigor, determination, never-lagging energy and enthusiasm of the genuine "go-getter" are qualities of youth.

Youth will go after the orders, sell the goods.

Middle age and old age, with the wisdom and judgment and foresight of maturity, will stay at home and produce the things to fill the orders.

It is generally realized that the problems of production have been nearly solved, and that the real problem of business is distribution. Making distribution more scientific and less wasteful, by finding economical shortcuts from producer to consumer, is a job that is up to the sales engineers and their armies of salesmen.

Majority of our economic problems are sales problems—problems of marketing.

AUTOMOTIVE DEALERS HOSTS AT BANQUET

Entertained at Dunlap for Group of Six — Interesting Program Followed Dinner.

The Automobile Dealers association gave a dinner at the Dunlap hotel Thursday night with Dr. and Mrs. E. L. Hill, Mr. and Mrs. John M. Rule and Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Spaulding as the guests of honor.

Following the serving of a splendid dinner menu, President Berger of the association introduced Mayor E. E. Crabtree as toastmaster. The dinner was in recognition of the special kindnesses shown the association by the guests of honor.

Mr. Crabtree commented upon the fine spirit which actuates the automotive men and their willingness to co-operate in every good Jacksonville movement.

Miss Beulah Tull sang a group of songs with Mr. Wesner as accompanist. Then J. F. Claus as a representative of the Automotive association, voiced the pleasure of the association in having arranged for this occasion, and told of the special obligations to the guests of honor.

Dr. E. L. Hill spoke in somewhat reminiscent vein and contrasted the present forward spirit and optimism of local business men with the days when he came to Jacksonville seven years ago.

He said that as an observer he could testify to the remarkable growth of the work together idea.

Miss Helen Sorrells gave a violin solo with Mr. Wesner as accompanist, and then R. Y. Rowe as president of the chamber of commerce, commented upon the hearty support given chamber of commerce affairs by the automotive men's organization.

O. H. Spaulding told about some of the work on the unpaved streets of Jacksonville and expressed willingness to assist automotive dealers projects in the future as freely as he had done in the past.

Miss Eula Priest gave a reading and then Dr. F. M. Rule speaking for John M. Rule, who was ill and unable to be present, referred in optimistic way to Jacksonville conditions and the future.

A delightful informality prevailed and the program was greatly enjoyed. Then came a social hour with radio entertainment provided thru the equipment owned by W. H. Cocking. Some concert programs given in Cincinnati and St. Louis were among the features caught.

As was true of all previous Automotive Dealers' association events, the courtesy extended was in every way genuine. The program for the event was in charge of Warfield Brown and other arrangements were made by a committee including W. H. Cocking, Walter Houston and Chester Joy.

CORBRIDGE CONVICTED ON MURDER CHARGE

Pontiac, Oct. 19—Unless a rehearing of the case is allowed, Myron Corbridge, an inmate of the state reformatory, will be hung for the murder of Sol Jones, a guard. The crime was committed several months ago, Corbridge using a piece of gas pipe in his attack on the guard.

Corbridge was sent to the reformatory from this city. He was frequently in trouble and well known in police circles. Much of his life had been spent behind prison walls and these facts will be set forth in motion for rehearing of the case, which is to come before the court tomorrow.

And President Andrew Jackson said: "Nullification is treason." Come to Grace M. E. Church Friday afternoon and evening.

Jerry Flynn of the Buckhorn neighborhood was listed among the Thursday visitors to the city.

LOCAL HOSPITALS ON APPROVED LIST

The American College of Surgeons in a bulletin recently issued list both Passavant and Our Savior's hospitals in the approved list of hospitals in the State of Illinois.

The bulletin lists fifty-six Illinois hospitals on the approved list. Very few towns in the state have two accredited institutions for surgery outside Chicago.

To become an approved institution patients must have required scientific care.

Dr. Franklin H. Martin, director general of the American College of Surgeons, states relative to the survey:

"Aided by one of the great educational foundations, we have carried on actual visits to hospitals, made by trained medical men who see working conditions as they are. For the first time this year we have surveyed hospitals of 56 bed capacity and up. These institutions as well as the larger hospitals show a marked improvement the country over and places Illinois in the fore-front of states who are active in medical progress.

Illinois is to be congratulated on its splendid showing and on the medical men, hospital superintendents, and trustees who have made this advance possible."

STATE TO CO-OPERATE IN DEEP WELL OIL TEST

State Geological Survey Co-Operation Promised in Test Soon to Be Made in This County.

The co-operation of the state geological survey in connection with the deep well oil test has been promised. On behalf of the organization of business men subscribing to the fund, E. E. Crabtree recently wrote to the department about the local prospect.

D. M. Collingwood of the department, after conference with Mr. DeWolf, head of the department, recently wrote to Mayor Crabtree as follows:

I will be very glad to co-operate in my capacity with the state geological survey. At present I am very busy finishing up work here while the good weather lasts, and may not be able to come to Jacksonville for a week or two. I hope you will keep me in touch with your plans however, so that arrangements can be made for your driller to keep good samples and I will hope to be able to time my visit, should you desire to talk over your results after drilling to the shallows pay horizon.

I would stress the suggestion made by Mr. DeWolf that the best guide in making your location for a deep test, should be obtained from a study of the recent and former results of the shallow drilling. Levels should be run to the curb of any well or dry hole of which there is any useful record. As it may be possible for the state to do detail work in that area this season, I would suggest that those interested should have this done. If you wish to employ a reliable geologist to run these levels and advise you on the location of your test Mr. DeWolf will be glad to recommend several and we would be glad to assist him and co-operate with any information we have on file.

I trust you will keep me posted regarding the developments of your proposed plans.

Yours Very Truly,
D. W. Collingwood.

WE HAVE WITH US TONIGHT ADMIRAL WILLIAM S. SIMS

Navy Officer Gets in the Limelight Again at Cleveland

(By The Associated Press)

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Oct. 19—The United States navy was not prepared for war in 1917, is no better prepared today than it was then and never will be prepared under the present organization lan, Admiral William S. Sims, recently retired from the United States navy declared here in an address today before the City Club

The navy department at Washington bungled and mismanaged the fleet during the war and since the war there has been no clear indication of a disposition to put the navy into "trim", Admiral Sims asserted.

"The navy has not been properly handled," Admiral Sims said, "because of mistakes made at Washington. You know nothing of except what those in control at Washington want you to know. When I came back from the war I could have sat tight and let things take their course or I could expose the mistakes in the hope that they would not be made again.

"Had I done the former I could be walking along with Mr. Daniels today, figuratively speaking, bedecked with gold braid up to my elbows. A congressional investigation was made after the war and all the Republicans were certain the majority report was correct and all Democrats unhesitatingly accepted the minority report. But the people as a whole were not interested. There was no one, no great newspaper interested enough to dig out the facts of the evidence from behind the great smoke screen of irrelevant matter.

"Don't blame congress for American unpreparedness. Congressmen do only what their constitutents want them to do"

Touching on the airplane and submarine in future wars, Admiral Sims declared that the country which has the preponderance of this type of fighting craft will control the situation whenever they appear in sufficient numbers to ovrwhelm the aircraft and submarines of the enemy

RUSSIANS FEAR FOR THEIR SAFETY

(By The Associated Press)

TOKIO, Oct. 19—The civil government at Vladivostok has refused to take over the arms and ammunition held by the Japanese who are arranging for their disposal in conference at Tokio with Charles B. Warren, American ambassador and Sir Charles Eliot, British ambassador, it was learned today.

Japanese officials have expressed the opinion that the one American cruiser one British cruiser, two Japanese cruisers and three Japanese destroyers in Vladivostok harbor will insure the safety of foreigners among whom are approximately fifty Americans.

The Russion colony here, however, is much concerned regarding their nationals and fear previous massacres may be repeated. They believe that while the government officials of Vladivostok will be able to get accommodation on vessels commandered by Admiral Stark, many thousands of Russians are in danger of punishment by the Reds for supporting the whites. These are making their way southward as fast as conditions will permit but much suffering is reported among them.

Japanese evacuation of Vladivostok will not be completed until Oct. 26 and Japanese authorities have announced that any reds entering the neutral zone before that date will be disarmed.

The Japanese are removing large quantities of arms and ammunition and what is left it is said easily could be rendered useless.

FIND IT IN BOOKS

Rolt Wheeler, Francis, "The Book of Cowboys" The era of the cowboy is of the highest importance. It bridged the gap between the wild day when only the hunting Indians and the buffalo roamed the prairies, and the modern days of railroads and the stock industry. Historically, politically and commercially, the development of the western states cannot be understood without an appreciation of the cowboy. This author, in this book, which is full of swing and vitality of those times, which is replete with far-feuds, Morman massacres, Indian fighting, Western gun-play, and the wild days of the open range, has given a vivid and accurate picture of the days through which the western states leaped from savagery to statehood. The book is unique in the matter of handling the subject, and while the reader will revel in the thrilling incidents and its sweep of the great outdoors, he will lay it down with a fuller understanding of the lives of the men who contributed so much to America's greatness, and a clearer perception of the way in which the West has come to be a power and a pride in these United States. This book is for the boys in their teens but will be enjoyed by their elders as well. It will be put in the juvenile room for the boys. Get it at the public library.

On Estimate Based On "Value Received"
When you need an estimate on your electric wiring requirements for house, office, store or factory do you shop around for the cheapest price irrespective of quality, service or reputation?
Or do you send at once for a reputable contractor who, by long experience, knows his business, gives reliable advice and service, keeps his promises and guarantees his work? An estimate based on "value received" may be a little higher but it is the one you should accept.

SID ADWELL MAKES GETAWAY FROM JAIL

Waverly Man Sawed Bars of Cell In Morgan County Prison—Then Climbed Thru Window To The Ground.

Sid Adwell arrested in Waverly several weeks ago, after a somewhat spectacular resistance, escaped from the Morgan county jail some time Wednesday night. It was not until Thursday morning that the sheriff knew of the escape of this prisoner, who was being held awaiting the coming session of the grand jury.

Investigation showed that Adwell had sawed off several bars of his cell on the first floor of the jail. Once in the hallway it was an easy matter toe scape, as he raised a window on the south side of the building and let himself down to the ground.

Adwell was arrested after a drunken rampage in Waverly and threatened to shoot anyone who attempted to arrest him, but did not make good the threat. Authorities in other counties have been notified.

COMMUNITY AUCTION WILL BE FEATURE

Latest developments connected with the big trade expansion, sponsered by the Chamber of Commerce, to be held October 31, will include a general community auction.

The idea of a general community auction grew out of the first discussed auction of automobiles. Now it is proposed that any one may list anything he may have for sale and have it auctioned off to the highest bidder without charge. However, all articles and stock to be sold must be listed with the secretary of the Chamber of Commerce. Charles M. Strawn, J. L. Henry and C. J. Wright have donated their services.

The committee appointed to secure the pledges of the local merchants in the promotion of the trade expansion day, October 31, is meeting with great success. They report 102 business men have signified their willingness to assist in making the event one worth while. The committee, however, hopes to enlist at least 125 men for the event.

WOLF PACKS APPEAL TO YOUNGER BOYS

Explanation is Given of New Line of Boys Work Beginning In Jacksonville.

Wolf Packs are being organized in Jacksonville along lines somewhat similar to Boy Scouts, varying ages of boys indicating the needf or both organizations. The Pilgrim Memorial at the Congregational church has secured the services of Henry Alexander to assist Rev. G. E. Stickney with the Boy Scouts and Wolf Packs work and several new groups are being organized.

Mr. Alexander is now a student at Illinois College. During the war he served in the navy and was for some time Scout Master of the Boy Scouts in a large church in Oak Park, Ill. He has had camp and other experience in work with boys, and the church here feels fortunate in securing him as assistant for Mr. Stickney.

Some general facts about the Wolf Packs are given:

This movement or program for younger boys was formulated by Sir Robert Baden-Powell, who was also one of the founders of the Boy Scout movement in 1918. The author, who is an Englishman, saw the great value to the boy of the Boy Scout program and felt that there should be a similar program developed for boys who were too young for the scout work and so he developed the Wolf-Cub program This program is founded upon Kipling's Jungle Book. As one recalls the story he remembers how a little boy is carried off and brought up by the wolves, as one of the family. They called him Mowgli—and they taught him all the tricks of the jungle, how to run, and how to hunt game and how to take care of himself. He does all this under the leadership of Akela, the old wolf.

Just so a lad, joining the Wolf-Cub Pack, under the leadership of Akela, the adult leader, the young cub is taught how to lay and light fires, how to cook his own grub, how to make himself comfortable in camp, how to build a hut or a shelter in the woods, how to find his way in a strange country, how to signal to other cubs, how to do good turns, how to help in case of accident and how finally to prepare himself to be a good Boy Scout.

The boy first starts in as a recruit. Then after he learns the Cub's Howl, the Promise and the Two Cub Laws he may become a Tender-Pad. As he becomes more efficient he becomes a One Star Cub and then after attaining the rank of a Two Star Cub he becomes a full grown Wolf Cub. He may then earn Proficiency Badges in Intelligence, Handcraft, Service and Physical Health.

The Law of the Wolf Pack is:

1. The Cub gives in to the Old Wolf.

2. The Cub does not give in to himself.

The Wolf Cub's Promise is—I promise to DO MY BEST

1. To be loyal to God, to my Country, and to the Law of the Wolf Pack.

2. To da a good turn to somebody every day.

Since the beginning of the movement in England in 1918, it has spread rapidly over the British Isles and the continent. There are Wolf Packs in France, Germany, Holland and many other countries. Recently it has been introduced here in the U. S. and is spreading very rapidly here. It fills a very definite need and is very popular with the boys, hence its remarkable growth.

One Wolf Pack has already been formed in connection with the community program for boys at the Pilgrim Memorial. This work is entirely undenominational and open to the boys of the community. Another Pack is to be formed next week. Those interested in becoming members should see Mr. Stickney.

FRESHMEN HELD BANQUET LAST NIGHT

Illinois College freshmen students held a banquet and dance at Peacock Inn last evening. One hundred and six freshmen were present

Considerable activity was shown by the unper classmen who undertook to prevent the freshmenfrom reaching the Peacock Inn. Freshmen, however, outnumbered them and held one of the most succesful affairs the class has undertaken this year.

At the banquet E. S. Akers acted as toastmaster. Talks were made by a number of the class, including remarks by Josephine Milligan and Minnie Dell, who informally told of their experiences in reaching the banquet hall.

After the banquet the students adjourned to the ball room above the Peacock Inn and spent the remainder of the evening dancing.

COLLEGES MEAN MUCH TO THE COMMUNITY

President Harker of Woman's College Made Informing Address to Kiwanis Club Thursday.

At the weekly luncheon of the Kiwanis club yesterday at the Peacock Inn, Dr. J. R. Harker talked on the subject "How Illinois College helps Jacksonville." This was a theme on which Dr. Harker is certainly qualified to speak, for he knows in an intimate way of the value of such an institution to the city as a matter of business as well as from other standpoints.

A pleasing feature of the program was a group of songs given by Madame Colard of the College of Music. Edward Tomlinson made a report of the Kiwanis convention held recently in Decatur.

Dr. Harker in his address emphasized the thought that the college furnishes leaders in thought and that it makes a large contribution to the educational and religious life of the city. In a business President Harker said that for every dollar that local people will put into the institution that the college authorities will guarantee to bring four dollars from outside sources.

Then after quoting the figures to show the large expenditures made by the college each year in Jacksonville, money which goes into the channels of trade, President Harker gave Kiwanians his vision of future possibilities.

Backed up with facts, Dr. Harker showed the building of a great college for women here is feasible and that with ample funds at the disposal of the college there is no reason why within a few years' time the college could not be so enlarged that the attendance would reach the 1,000 mark.

The building up of the college means the building up of the city, the speaker said.

New members of Kiwanis introduced yesterday were James W. Elliott, M. E. Gilbert and Charles P. Thompson. The list of guests included Rev. G. W. Randle of Jacksonville, and Frederick Buck of Springfield.

The next number of the Lyceum will be November 1. John Kilham will be the entertainer. Mr. Kilham is a noted portrayor of Indian character.

WAVERLY FARM INSTITUTE WELL ATTENDED

The third meeting arranged by the Morgan county farmers institute was held at Waverly Thursday. The afternoon and evening sessions were largely attended and a great deal of interest was show nby both men and women.

Mrs. Frank I Mann talked on household themes and an illustrated lecture was given by Charles Farr of Chicago. William Webb of Joliet discussed soils and crops. As was true of the meetings at Meredosia and Asbury, opportunity was given for questions and the institute was of an educational type, as intended.

DR. ROWENA MANN TO ADRESS MEETING HERE

Local Democratic women are especially interested in the announcement that Dr. Rowena Morse Mann will come to Jacksonville for an address at the Morgan county court house next Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock. MR. PERRIN TO LEAVE CITY SCHOOLS OCT. 31

Resignation of Superintendent of Schools Accepted With Regret by Board of Education—Committee to Receive Applications.

The board of education as a special meeting held Thursday night accepted the resignation of Supt. H. A. Perrin, to take effect October 31. This action of the board came after Mr. Perrin's letter of resignation had been read and the matter had been thoroly discussed.

Every member of the board present expressed regret that the city schools are to lose the servics of the retiring superintendent. It was made plain that the board's action was taken because of a desire to be fair to Mr. Perrin and to give him the opportunity to begin work in a larger field.

Dr. C. E. Black, president of the board, presided and the others present were Members Hopper, Muehlhausen, Roberts, Rogerson, Metcalf, Duncan and Rapp.

Following the acceptance of the resignation the question of receiving applications for another superintendent was referred to the president of the board, and the teachers' committee, which included A. C. Metcalf, Mrs. W. D. Roberts and C. A. Fiedler. This committee will receive applications and later present them to the board.

The superintendent reported that the Josephine Milligan open air school is almost in condition for use and opening for inspection purposes will probably be held Thursday, October 26, afternoon and evening.

Some other matters of business were given attention and the board adjourned. The language of Mr. Perrin's letter of resignation is as follows:

October 18, 1922.

To the President and Members of the Board of Education, Jacksonville.

For a period of between six and seven years is has been my privilege to serve this community as superintendent of schools. At all himes I have striven to give my best thoughts and efforts toward the securing of the best possible school training opportunities for the boys and girls of this city.

In my undertakings I have been blessed with the wholehearted support of those on the board of education, who representing the community as you do, have given unstintedly and without remuneration your time, efforts and thotful consideration to the direction of our school systems. I should be remiss if I failed to express my appreciation of your consistent co-operation and ceaseless efforts as well as your valuable advice and uniform support for all that has been forward looking. Altho important problems have constantly arisen, the solutions have been positive and in my judgment for the betterment of the school apportunities. That it has been a pleasure to work in co-operation with such a body of representative citizens is putting my thots very mildly.

More than six years ago I requested the board of education of Lincoln to accept my resignation that I might accept the superintendency of the Jacksonville schools. In complying with the request I believe they aided education in this community and in the state as well as giving me an opportunity for a wider service.

Again, the situation presents itself. Last Monday night I was elected to the superintendency in Joliet. That situation presents opportunities for service in a wide and varied field. My unanimous selection in a school district comprising about 65,000 population speaks for itself of the magnitude of service opportunities involved. I have looked over that field carefully and feel that it is my opportunity to render a service on a larger scale than heretofore.

In view of the conditions and also in view of the fact that our local problems are in better shape today than have been during my administration, I respectfully request that the board accept my resignation to take effect as of October 31 with the co-operative provision made with the approval of the Joliet board of education that I may return for a brief period or periods if requested by this board to aid in or its selected executive in adjusting such matters as my position as superintendent and secretary of board may make desirable.

Respectfully submitted.

After the resignation had been submitted, each member of the board expressed appreciation of the splendid work that Mr. Perrin has done in the Jacksonville schools, and the superintendent voiced his personal regret in leaving Jacksonville.

TRUSTEES CONSIDER ISOLATION HOSPITAL

Pasavant Board Met at Hospital Thursday Night — Tentative Plans Call for Building With Twelve Beds.

At a meeting of the board of trustees of Passavant hospital held Thursday night plans for the propsed isolation hospital were discussed.

There was a large attendance of members with President A. A. Curry in the chair. The trustees since taking up the project have found it is a big problem. All of the members have been studying plans and reading literature pertaining to similar hospitals in other places.

Architect Pierson met with the board last night and the floor plan was discused. The tentative plan on which the board is working calls for a building 42 to 72 feet with twelve beds and in emergency twenty four beds can be placed in the building.

The structure as outlined will be plain in design but will be substantial. It will have a porch on two sides and each room will be entered from an outside door so that patients will not come in contact with each other. Each room will be provided with a bath, lavatory and toilet and there will be plenty of ventilation.

As planned nurses and physicians will be provided with dressing rooms, where clothing can be changed so that there will be no danger of contagion when they leave the hospital. The building will be heated by the plant in the main building and the meals also will be served from the hospital kitchen.

The hospital will be ample to care for a population of 32,000. No estimate has as yet been made of the cost. However, Architect Pierson was instructed to proceed with the plans and it is hoped the definite plan and probable cost will be known within two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Gordon and sons and Mrs. Gordon's mother, Mrs. A. E. Cline, have just arrived in Jacksonville by automobile, from Spokane, Wash. The Morgan county friends of the family will be glad that they are again to be in this locality, even for the period of a few months.

S. W. NICHOLS MEETS OLD ACQUAINTANCE

Local Resident Meets Rev. Walter Aitken, Now Pastor of Prosperous Church in Lincoln, Neb. — Acquaintance Formed Years Ago on Shipboard.

S. W. Nichols, who is now visiting relatives in Lincoln, Neb., enroute to Arizona for a winter sojourn, has written the following letter to the Journal. Mr. Nichols tells of the pleasant meeting he had recently with Rev. Walter Aitken, now pastor of the St. Paul M. E. church in Lincoln: The letter follows:

Lincoln, Neb., Oct. 9.

Dear Journal: I have had a very pleasant experience since arriving here. In June 1909, I crossed the ocean from New York to Glasgow on the good steamship "Columbia" having for state roommate Rev. Walter Aitken, a Scotchman by birth, going home to visit his aged mother. The gentleman and I formed a very agreeable acquaintance and as he belonged to the Methodist conference of Illinois I met him a few times after our return, notably when he made several acceptable speeches at our chautauqua.

I supposed of course he was yet dispensing the gospel in my native state when, judge of my surprise at being called over the telephone by him a few mornings since. My arrival here had been announced in a paper and he had seen it and I lost no time in hunting him up. It seems he has had such good success in winning the young that he was urged to come to this city and take the pastorate of the largest church in the place, St. Paul M. E. There are in the state university and other colleges more than thirteen thousand students enrolled so there is a wide field. He has been here now more than two years and is making good.

Dr. Aitken was born in Sterlingshire, Scotland, and inherits the physical traits of the people of that land as well as the sturdy mental and moral traits of his sturdy covenanter Presbyterian ancestors. He didn't exactly have the regulation "poor but honest parents" for tho his father was strictly honest he was able to give the son a fine education. He first had a private tutor and the benefit of the best colleges of that land as his discourses well show.

Tho reared a Presbyterian he inclined to Methodism and united with the Wesleyan Methodist church when but twelve years of age, his parents wisely refraining from opposing him or casting him off for making such a choice. He was enthusiastic and at eighteen was preaching, and even at that early age he gave promise of the fine success he has since attained.

At the age of 24 he decided to come to this country and landed in Springfield, Ill., where he reported to the presiding elder of the district and was put to work. He could only act as supply and the official told him they couldn't promise him more than $300 a year but he told him not to mind the salary but put him to work which was done and the compensation came all right and it has ever been his experience that each church he has served has increased his salary while in its employ.

His charges in the Illinois conference have been Williamsville, Monticello, Charleston, Danville, Bloomington and Urbana and from the last named place he came here, urged to do so because of his success in attracting and holding the young.

His church has a superb plant. Located in the center of the city, almost, is a fine building with hardly anything to be desired in its construction and facilities. The main audience room is a triumph of the architect's skill. It will seat two thousand people and its acoustic properties are fine and its artistic qualities have not been overlooked. There are two glorious windows one depicting the annunciation to the shepherds and the other the visit of the women to the empty tomb. Then there is a full complement of other apartments, prayer meeting room, class rooms, pastor's study, office and others.

Owing to the size and qualities of the main audience room it is used by the state university for its commencement and other functions and occasionally other organizations find it convenient to invite large audiences there.

Dr. Aitken is a hard working, progressive, up to date man. He admitted he had not taken a regular vacation in eleven years but does hope to go over home and visit his old mother next summer. He occasionally accepts engagements in chautauqua courses in which he is very acceptable and keeps up his strength and appetite to some extent playing golf for he wisely believes in following the example of Paul, within proper bounds, of being all things to all men that he may win some.

He has a large library and works incessantly. He follows the advice of the great Bishop Joyce who advised the candidates for the ministry to krite their sermons and, if possible, commit them and speak without the use of the manuscript. He has a bit of Scotch brogue in his speech and I wish he had more for I love to hear it.

Thruout the year from the advent of fall till the end of spring he especially prepares his discourses to attract the students and thinking people without sensation or use of undesirable means. He is, in fact, a whole forum within himself. Last year he gave a series of discourses on great books and authors and his evening audiences averaged fifteen hundred.

This year he is taking the characters of great men and choosing their favorite Bible texts some of his themes being Sir Walter Scott, Robinson Crusoe, Uncle Tom, William Penn, Thomas Chalmers, Michael Faradty, Sir John Franklin, William Cowper, John Knox, John B. Gough, Oliver Cromwell, Abraham Lincoln.

In dealing with these characters he seeks to emphasize the religious traits in their characters and draw useful lessons for the people of today.

How I wish everyone could have heard his discourse last Sunday night on Abraham Lincoln. The texts he quoted from the great emancipator were two, "The great judgments of the Lord are true and righteous altogether," and "Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy soul, and with all thy mind and with all thy strength."

He spoke to a vast audience and depicted in glowing terms the character of the great man who guided the ship of satte thru such dangerous seas and terrible storms. He showed that Mr. Lincoln was a true, humble believer in God and placed his reliance on the mighty One.

He had a vast audience and among the number were several grey haired veterans of the civil war who greatly enjoyed the fine discourse.

In a heart to heart talk with him in his study I found that in one respect, in the estimation of many, he is wofully behind the times. Sad to relate many persons today deem it an indication of research, progress, intellect and the like to cast doubts on the authenticity of much of the doctrines of the Bible. They sagely inform you that there is nothing Messianic in the book of Isaiah notwithstanding the many texts in the new testament to the contrary. They wholly set aside and relegate to the category of fictitious legend the account of our Savior's virgin birth and litteral resurrection and, in fact, deny anything supernatural in the Bible either New Testament or old, and some even go so far as to deny the divinity of Christ.

The result of this is all too evident in empty pews in the churches on Sunday; the waywardness of the rising generation as is shown in so many ways. The people who entertain these views say it is necessary to progress thus if we are to hold the rising generation and attract them to the church but the opposite seems to be the case.

Dr. Aitken has a meeting at 7 Sunday evening especially for young people and students and they are well attended. And then, notwithstanding the wise (?) people who are so progressive and know so much Dr. Aitken is innocent enough to take the Holy Book as it reads.

When Matthew and Luke give their categorical accounts of the Savior's birth he thinks the book means what it says. When Isaiah gives in his glowing language the accounts of the One to come and they are quoted in the New Testament as having been fulfilled he is so far behind the times as to think the New Testament is true, literally.

When Peter says:

"For we have not followed cunningly devised fables when we made known to you the power and coming of our Lord Jesus Christ, but were eye witnesses of His Majesty * * * * We have a more sure word of prophecy whereunto ye do well that ye take heed unto * * * * knowing this first that no prophecy of the scripture is of any private interpretation for the prophecy came not in old time by the will of man but holy men of God spake as they were moved by the Holy Ghost."

And to this too, Dr. Aitken accepts as it reads and thinks the Bible is a book with supernatural origin.

When each evangelist tells specifically of our Savior's appearance after lying in the tomb; when the first chapter of Acts tells of it so minutely; when Paul in I Cor. XV says "Christ died for our sins according to the scriptures; and He was buried and that He rose again the third day according to the scriptures and was seen of Cephas, then of the twelve * * * And last of all He was seen of me also as of one born out of due time. * * For if Christ be not risen from the dead your faith is vain and ye are of all men most miserable."

This also the worthy gentleman takes as it reads: I have many times recalled Dr. Sturtevant saying in his decisive way, "I do not undertake to define minutely what inspiration is but certainly the inspiration is but men who wrote the Bible was different from that of Milton and Shakespeare. If our Savior had not risen from the dead as He did He would have been forgotten in three months."

Dr. Aitken has an interesting family. He married a lady in Springfield and has three daughters, one married and living in Chicago and two at home. The church is about to buy a new parsonage which will be very acceptable to the prospective occupant.

I have improved so much in health since I came here that I decided to stay a week longer than I at first intended. I expect now to leave on the 16th and land some time next week in Arizona, old Tombstone at first.

S. W. Nichols.

In Poverty 81 Years, Inherits a Fortune

Mrs. MARY JANE YOUNG

BY MILTON BRONNER

LONDON.—A fairy tale come true—

That's what her neighbors down on Copenhagen street, one of the poorest and drabbest quarters of gray London, say about the good fortune of Mrs. Mary Jane Young.

After 81 years of drudgery and poverty, she will spend her last days in ease, living in her share of a half million dollar inheritance.

Four years ago W. T. Hanks of Jersey City, N. J., died leaving the fortune. His nearest known relative was an Englishman, Ephraim Gregory, long since dead. The money therefore belonged to his children. But they could not be located.

After a long search, Howard S. Harrington, a young American lawyer, got a clue which led to a coal mine district in Wales. There he found a son, John Charles Gregory, working as a collier.

He had lost track of his family. But he thought he had a sister living somewhere in London. They finally traced Mrs. Young to her little home.

Her Dream Comes True.

"When I was younger," she says, "I used to dream about riches and happiness.

"I never had much of either. As time went on, I stopped dreaming. It interferred with my work. My sister had died. My brother went away. I didn't see him for 44 years.

"Then suddenly he came with word of the fortune. All my hopes, dead for many years, were reborn.

"It seems that dreams come true—sometimes."

Mrs. Young is busy getting the documentary evidence to prove her right to the fortune. As soon as she completes these records, she will mail them to America, get her share of the inheritance—

"And keep on dreaming," she says, "if it isn't too late."

CUT DOWN YOUR FUEL COSTS

To save money and coal, inspect your house, says the Commerce Department's Housing Division, and do these things:

Stop all unregulated drafts thru the house.

Use storm doors and storm or double windows in cold climate, if practicable, at least on the side of the house facing the prevailing cold wind.

Plug cracks around or in all windows and doors. Use felt, if necessary, under outside doors. Reset hinges if necessary.

See that there are no cracks in window casings or between walls and casings, or between the sash. Tighten the locks. Use putty and weather stripping where necessary.

Inspect windows and walls of attic. Dead air in an attic keeps the lower stories warmer. Plug up any openings from attic between walls.

Close openings between walls and use newspapers under the carpets if there are drafts thru the floor.

Study manufacturers' directions as to care of furnace. Replace cracked or broken grates. Examine dampers of fireplaces. When fireplaces and stoves are not in use dampers should be closed. Clean chimney and stove pipes periodically or whenever necessary.

Lock windows when closed. Draw shades, if practicable. Turn off heat in rooms with windows left open and in unused rooms. Remember that good ventilation is possible without large openings.

Remember that thermometers are better gages of heat than are the various members of a family, each with his own idea of want. Sixty-eight to seventy degrees is a normal, healthful temperature for a room in which people live.

Remember that these suggestions imply a possible saving of millions of tons of coal this winter.

In Kaiser's Amours

Here are two little-known figures conected with the ex-kaiser's matrimonial plans—above, the grand duchess of Baden, Wilhelm's aunt, who is trying to patch up the scrap in the kaiser's family caused by his marriage plans; below, the young Prince of Schoenaich, who sought to marry Princess Hermine but whom the ex-kaiser "cut out."

LONESOME

CLUB TEAMS UP FRIENDLESS AND MAKES BIG HIT

MISS CLARA SALEM

By NEA Service.

NEW YORK—A little widow sat alone on a park bench and watched the young people strolling by.

Over by the curb a handsome limousine had drawn up. Inside the automobile a smartly dressed young woman regarded the little widow wistfully. After a while she leaned out and spoke.

"You look lonesome," she said, "and I'm lonesome, too. Won't you come and ride with me?"

This was one of the adventures in lonesomeness recounted at a meeting of the Lonesome Club organized by Miss Clara Salem, an attorney. The gatherings are held in a church here.

"Writers and preachers," says Miss Salem, "are always extolling motherhood. But if an unmarried woman speaks right up in meeting and says she'd like to be a wife and mother if she only had the chance she's looked down upon as being downright immodest.

"God created both men and women and he meant they should associate with one another. For the men and women who circumstances have denied the ordinary avenues of association I have organized my Lonesome Club. I expect it to sweep all over the United States."

Men have taken to Miss Salem's idea more quickly than women.

"At the first meeting," says the founder, "there were 25 men and two women. At the next gathering the number was increased to 30 men and 10 women. Among tem were young doctors, lawyers, school teachers and stenographers.

"Four couples paired off, went to a neighborhood restaurant for dinner and then out for a bus ride. The club was already fulfilling its purpose."

RED CROSS DRIVE AT WHITE HALL THIS WEEK

Branch Puts on Drive at Earlier Date than that Designated by National Red Cross Organization.

WHITE HALL, Oct. 18.—Instead of awaiting the week of November, 11, designated by the National Red Cross, the White Hall branch is putting on a drive this week for reasons that appear to be for the best interests of the work in a local way. Monday morning announcement was made in all departments of the school by Mrs. Lee A. Hanchett as to the object of the drive, and in connection with the laying of the corner stone of the new high school building in the afternoon, a bevy of very energetic ladies swooped down on the crowds at every point of vantage and put on a tag day that added an important feature to the exercises of the day.

Tuesday and Wednesday were set for the membership drive, and by the close of the effort it is planned to have a renewed membership of 1,200 in the White Hall branch. The local Red Cross is working in conjunction with the Chicago office of the national organization, and the advaintages of the early drive will be emphasized in connection with the Red Cross roll on Armistice Day, by date set for the drive by the national body.

The present drive is for the purpose of providing for a community nurse for the ensuing year and in other ways to provide for health work of the community. The past year under Mrs. Lee A. Hanchett has produced a most favorable sentiment for such activity, but the extent of the work in figures is not at hand at the present time.

JACKSONVILLE WILL PLAY ALTON HIGH

Local Warriors Will Clash With Alton Team There Tomorrow—Should Win if They Play the Game They Are Capable Of Playing.

Coach Mitchell's high school football warriors journey to Alton tomorrow where they will take on the high school team of that city.

Last year Jacksonville deefated Alton here but it is said the Alton team is a much improved squad this season. The team is coached by M'Wherter for four years a star on the Millikin team and will no doubt play the Millikin style of football.

Two weeks ago Alton played Carlinville high and was defeated by a score of 20 to 0. Last Saturday Cleveland high of St. Louis was held to a scoreless tie.

If Jacksonville puts up the game she played against Peoria Central she should bring home the bacon. Mitchell will use the same lineup as in the Peoria game except that Deatherage will take the place of Sanders.

EXPECT BIG CROWD AT FOOTBALL GAME

BLOOMINGTON, Ill., Oct. 19—The greatest throng that has ever witnessed a football game in this city is expected to see Illinois Wesleyan University and Lombard College battle here on the gridiron tomorrow. The winner is generally conceded the state minor college championship.

BRADLEY HERE FOR ANNUAL STRUGGLE

Fast Peoria Team Plays Illinois Tomorrow Afternoon — Some Bradley Stars on Side Line.

Bradley comes Saturday afternoon for the annual football struggle with Illinois college. The Peoria boys come with a clean slate. They have trounced Lincoln college, played Lombard to a 6 to 6 score, and last Saturday won from St. Viator college of Kankakee by 14 to 0.

Last year Bradley defeated Illinois college 20 to 0 in a game which did not do the Blue and White players credit. Bradley was unable to score by carrying the ball for consistent gains but scored all points in unusual ways. The first touchdown was made from the first kickoff when the fleet footed Gross received the ball on a lateral pass from a team mate, skirted the Illinois end and ran nearly the length of the field for a score. The second touchdown was made by scooping up a fumble and running 25 yards to the goal line. The third score was also made by Gross who caught a punt and sprinted around the Illinois team for the final six points.

The Illinois team is out to reverse the score this season. The local players know they have a real game on their hands. No stock is taken in the Bradley hard luck stories which are being sent out to the effect that certain men will be unable to play because of injuries. With nine or ten of last year's men playing on the Bradley team the Illinois men know full well what a strenuous day is in prospect for Saturday afternoon when the whistle turns the teams loose at 3 o'clock.

The Illinois team is making gradual progress. Considerable attention has been given this week to improving the offense which has lacked the usual punch and effectiveness. It is believed that the allround play of the team will show considerable improvement over that displayed against Normal last Saturday. Indications point to a fine day and a dry field. The ground is now in wonderful condition for a game.

PROGRAM GIVEN AT ALEXANDER SCHOOL

Large Crowd Attends Entertainment and Box Social Thursday Evening — Other Alexander News.

ALEXANDER, Oct. 19.—A box social and entertainment given at the Alexander school Thursday evening was attended by a large number and proved a success in every particular. A program had been arranged under the direction of Miss Margaret Duffner, the principal. There were vocal numbers by Mrs. K. V. Beerup and Miss Eunice Armstrong, and a piano solo by Mrs. Harold Strawn. A clarinet and piano duet was given by Miss Althea Hall and Kenneth Schaaf and Miss L. Tranbarger gave a reading. Brown's orchestra furnished several selections.

At the close of the program the boxes were sold by C. M. Strawn as auctioneer, and quite a substantial sum was thus realized. The school has recently purchased a piano and the affair was planned to raise money for this fund.

"EFFICIENCY built this Institution from a 6 room cottage to a modern Hospital of 67 rooms in 12 years. Requiring 1 nurse at first to 10 nurses now to take care of its patients. It is true the STRUGGLES were hard and great and obstacles many, the task a big one but not one penny was ever asked of any one nor did we receive one for either our work or our building.

Many have come to us without means to pay for operations and care. We gave freely of our services as far as we could without hope of reward. Now that we have reached the goal of our ambition in building, we have organized a regular Department of CHARITY to look after all such cases in the future. Already since February this department has restored 14 poor but worthy people regardless of race or creed, to health.

Work of laying brick for the new library will go under headway next week. Ernest Stansbury, the contractor, was over from Greenfield this week and completed arrangements to this end with the completion of the foundation work by J. E. McAvoy. Mr. Stansbury sanctions the date for the laying of the corner-stone on November 11th by the American Legion in connection with a large observance of Armistice Day, saying the date comes just right. The A. L. post will meet Friday night to consider arrangements further by which time it is hoped to be able to announce the speaker.

C. & A. Revises Time Card.

The Chicago & Alton is working on a new time card to restore normal service with the settlement of the shopmen's strike. It is likely that the service thru Jacksonville between Roodhouse and Bloomington, Nos. 70 and 71, will be resumed. Since this train was taken off people down this way have been deprived of a favored service to Jacksonville at 5:50 a. m., by driving to Roodhouse.

The people at Wrights have been deprived of the visit of the aggregation of stage hopefuls from White Hall tonight under the name of the Anderson Players. The engagement had been advertised and at the last moment Manager Russell Anderson learned that the hall at Wrights is without seats, and that none were available. He figured that the hall would be filled to receive his company of aspiring actors and actresses, and he wants only the best possible accommodations, where his patrons can at least find a seat, resulting in his decision to cancel the Wrights engagement for tonight. He now figures on extending the proposed trip to Greenfield, a community that gives the glad and helpful hand to the ambitious youth

HARD LUCK

Pursued King George, But He Never Gave Up

QUEEN ELIZABETH AND KING GEORGE OF GREECE

By NEA Service.

ATHENS—Persistent through many disappointments and setbacks, George, Duke of Sparta and eldest son of the former King Constantine, is at last on the throne.

And he's going to stay there—"Until the people say they want me no more," he declares.

But he hopes that day will never come, for he likes his new job better than anything else in the world. He had been after it for a long time.

Twice he was in line for it. But politics interfered and George had to take a back seat.

Following revolutionary troubles in 1917 both he and his father had to flee. George went to Rumania. His younger brother Alexander came into power.

When Alexander died in 1920 from the effects of a monkey bite, the refugees were forced to renounce claims to the throne. But two months later, there was another upheaval in Greece and George and Constantine were asked to return to their country.

While George was in Rumania a royal match was arranged between him and Princess Elizabeth.

They were married at Bucharest on Feb. 27, 1921. The bride was 27; the bridegroom 31.

But hard luck still pursued the prince. A few days later he was laid up with the mumps which he caught from his bride.

It was nothing serious however. As a matter of fact, it seemed to change his luck.

When his father got into trouble and was forced to abdicate, George received the call.

Now both he and his wife are happy.

Eyes Seldom Grow Better Without Help

Do not have the good eye corrected and the amblyopic eye disregarded and allowed to remain dormant from non-use, visual acuity below normal should not be ignored. Many eyes that possess poor vision can be brought to normal acuity and all can be assured of some improvement.

Market Report

By The Associated Press

PRICE OF WHEAT CLOSED UNSETTLED

CHICAGO, Oct. 19—Uncertainties created by the ousting of Lloyd George as British premier had a noticeable bearish effect today on the wheat market here. Prices closed unsettled at 1c net decline to ¼c gain, with December $1.12⅝ to $1.13 and May $1.12 to $1.12¼. Corn finished ¼c off to a shade advance, oats ⅛c down to ⅛c up, and provisions ranging from a setback of five cents to a rise of 2½c.

Previous to definite announcement that Lloyd George's coalition had been overthrown the wheat market here had averaged higher influenced by the comparative strength which Liverpool quotations displayed in the face of yesterday's decline on this side of the Atlantic. Bullish sentiment however, was checked by assertions that traffic congestion at lake ports was being overcome and that exporters were giving signs of less anxiety about immediate supplies.

Misgivings on the part of holders became more evident after the first hour and with increased speculative selling as well as enlarged realizing sales the demand as a rule proved insufficient to absorb the offerings except at lower prices.

There was especially heavy selling by wire houses in the last 30 minutes of the session.

Elevator interests were credited with letting go of December and buying May. Corn and oats were steadied by support received from big houses.

New corn the first of which arrived in Chicago today brought 5½c over December for No. 2 wheat.

Provisions reflected the course of hog values.

LIBERTY BONDS SHOW STRENGTH

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—Strength of Liberty, decline of German marks to three cents a hundred a new low record and a highly confused movement of stock prices were the outstanding developments in today's financial markets. A number of stocks such as Corn Products and American Can were pushed up for sizeable gains, while others, like Pacific Oil, Republic Steel and Studebaker were under heavy pressure.

Mexican Petroleum fluctuated within a radius of ten points and closed at a slight fractional loss, while Standard Oil of New Jersey dropped 6½ points below last night's close.

Totals were 1,961,000 shares.

Call money opened at five per cent and closed at 4½. The commercial paper market was slightly firmer.

Demand sterling dropped abruptly on announcement of the resignation of Lloyd George, but its net los on the day was only about 1½ cents.

Heavy buying of Liberty 3½s which were carried to $103.02 a new high record was the outstanding feature in today's bond dealings.

The third 4¼s showed a net gain of 16 cents and the Fourth 4¼s and uncalled Victory 4¾s, six each, while the Second Fours sold off 20 cents and the other issues from two to six cents.

Total sales (par value) were $17,308,000

First number I. W. C. Artist Series, Music Hall, Monday evening, October 23. Alma Hays Reed, soprano, Margaret O'Conner, harpist, Florence Brinkman, pianist. Season and single admission tickets on sale at Brown's Music Store.

FIRST NUMBER OF ARTIST SERIES

Music lovers of the city are looking forward with keen anticipation to the first number of the Illinois Woman's College Artist Series which will be given in Music hall, Monday evening, October 23, at which time Alma Hays Reed, Soprano, Florence Brinkman, Pianist and Margaret O'Connor Harpist will appear.

The other numbers of the series this year will be Maurice Dumesnil Nov. 13. It is hardly necessary to speak of the work of this eminent French artist who is one of the most brilliant French pianists to come to America since the great World War. Mons. Duesnil appeared in the last year's series and on account of the large number of requests for his return, has been brought back this year.

The third number will be given Dec. 11 by Valentine Crespi, Italian violinist and James Hamilton, the celebrated American tenor. Miss Crespi was born in Italy and had on her father's side the musical temperament of Italy and on her mother's, the passionate music of Roumania. Her first American debut was made in Aeolian Hall, New York, last November and she is now making her first general American tour. There has been considerable discussion in the Musical Journal in the last few months concerning Miss Crespi's having had a secret violin exercise which was passed down from the great Paganinni.

James Hamilton, tenor, who appears on the same program with Crespi has appeared in more than five hundred cities in the United States including critical audiences in New York, Chicago, and other artist centers.

The last number of the series will be given, January 13 by Bogumil Sykora, cellist, who is one of the most brilliant virtuosos of today. He is also making his first American tour and is one of the outstanding sensations of the cello world. Henry T. Fink said of his New York appearance, "The technical audacity and brilliancy of the playing of this cello virtuoso border upon the miraculous."

The program of the first number next Monday evening will be announced in the papers the latter part of the week.

For

LIGHT WINES AND BEERS

No Saloons

So the public may know—

On November 7th next, the voters of Illinois will have—as they should have—the opportunity of expressing themselves officially, through the ballot on the question of substituting light wines and beer for that form of prohibition known as the Volstead law.

The National Association Opposed To Prohibition, composed of public spirited men and women of responsible character, believes that a more liberal construction of the 18th Amendment would largely reduce the evils that are the natural consequences of the present enforcement act.

The Volstead law is an act which may be amended at any session of Congress, and if a majority of the voters favor a modification of this law, it becomes the duty of the elected representatives of the people to bring about a change which will at once be more liberal and more possible of enforcement.

Common sense, backed by years of experience, tells us that the Volstead Act does not make for true temperance, and that the day of radical prohibition that causes destructive beverages to flow in illicit streams throughout the country, should give way to a wise, restrictive law—a law which would permit the manufacture and use of beverages of low alcoholic content as the most effective preventative of the illicit traffic in deadly intoxicants.

We do not believe that a law so radical as the Volstead Act ever had the sanction of the people. We hope to prove this assertion at the polls in November.

Our opponents have frequently claimed that more than 80% of the men and women voters of Illinois favor the Volstead law, and yet they are attempting to suppress an advisory vote on the issue. Such repression is not only undemocratic but likewise open to suspicion. Can it be possible that those who have made prohibition advancement a profession have lost faith in the people?

Fair play is a jewel. Let us have a campaign conducted in good temper. The stake is public service—not private ambition. We urge all good citizens to study the issue and to vote their preference so that candidates elected to the 68th Congress may know where the voters of Illinois stand on this question.

Without entering further into the merits of the prohibition controversy at this time, we hold it fortunate that the men and women voters of our commonwealth will have opportunity to voice their preference at the coming election.

This is still a—
